

GROWER TO GROWER TRADING

Pacific seeds recently made a change which will now allow growers to trade seed of certain varieties to other growers.

Growers will now have the choice to buy seed of established varieties such as EGA Gregory and Spitfire from either licensed Pacific Seeds Associates and retailers or other growers.

To maintain a standard of variety preservation, only growers who have purchased seed from a registered source will be permitted to trade seed. Selling growers must have purchased directly from a reseller or an associate to be able to sell to other farmers.

Pacific Seeds hopes this will give those growers who have been unable to maintain adequate stocks of planting seed the ability to source large quantities of local seed to plant their full program in 2015.

Growers who wish to sell seed must download and complete the Seed Sales Declaration Form from the Pacific Seeds website: www.pacificseeds.com.au

Please note that those varieties released in the last two years remain restricted for the 2015 planting season.
